Soft Coal Industry Splits Over Issue of Contract Parley

Hopes For Early Negotiations Fade; Lewis Silent on Situation

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—A sharp split among soft coal operators over whether to negotiate now for a new contract with John L. Lewis dashed hopes today for a quick nationwide peace between the industry and its miners.

Producers whose pits yield 60 per cent of the country's coal held themselves ready to deal with the United Mine Workers chief "at any convenient date", without waiting for a Supreme court decision on his legal troubles arising from the November walkout.

But the powerful Southern Coal Producers Association, whose mines produce a third of the 600,000,000-ton annual supply, broke away from the majority with a decision to hold aloof until the courts have had their say.

Far western mine owners indicated they would go along with the southerners.

The high court will hear on Jan. 14 Lewis' appeal from $3,510,000 in fines against himself and the United Mine Workers, imposed after the UMW chief ignored a district court order to head off the recent 17-day strike.

Long-smouldering differences between the Southern Association, biggest single producing unit in the national negotiating committee, and the remainder of the industry broke into the open at a nine-hour meeting yesterday.

The committee was adjourned sine die—without any day set for re-assembling—which meant there is scant chance of a national contract in the foreseeable future.

Whether negotiations might soon be started even between Lewis and the industry majority still was doubtful because:

Wheat Surplus Will Spur Export Totals

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Prospects of a price-depressing surplus in wheat after next year's harvest may spur government efforts to increase shipments of grain to hungry foreign nations in the immediate months ahead.

In the first forecast for the 1947 winter wheat crop, the Agriculture department yesterday raised the possibility that production may set a new record and pile up more wheat than will be needed for domestic use, exports and reserves.

The forecast envisaged a winter wheat crop of 916,527,000 bushels, or 9.1 per cent more than this year's record yield of 873,893,000 bushels. By comparison, production for the 1933-34 period averaged only 618,019,000 bushels.

Should this forecast be borne out and the spring wheat crop be increased by the same percentage, next year's crop of winter and spring wheat combined would be about 1,235,000,000 bushels. The carry over from this year will amount to 200,000,000 bushels.

Requirements from next year's supply may not exceed 975,000,000 bushels, 775,000,000 for domestic uses and 200,000,000 for export.

On this basis, next year's excess supply would be around 475,000,000 bushels. A normal excess supply or reserve is about one-half that amount.

The government is required by law to support wheat prices at not less than 90 per cent of the parity prices, which now is $1.87 a bushel.

Pair Found Dead in Mansion: Heart Attack, Hunger Blamed

Cleveland, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Starvation in one instance and a heart attack in the other were advanced by the authorities today as possible causes of the deaths of aged Mr. and Mrs. William Madoc Roberts in their decayed, 20-room mansion here.

The couple were found on their bed in the only room in the house which gave any evidence of having been lived in in some time after neighbors reported they had not seen Roberts, who was about 70 years old, for 16 days.

Mrs. Roberts, who was about 83 years old, was said not to have been outside the old house, which once provided the background for the couple's former splendor, in 20 years.

Kelly Declines To Ask for Fifth Term as Chicago's Mayor

Endorses Kennelly To Become Democratic Candidate for Office

Chicago, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Martin H. Kennelly, 59-year-old business and civic leader, today formally accepted the endorsement of the Democratic slate-making committee as the party's nominee for mayor of Chicago.

Kennelly was picked yesterday by a committee of 14 Democratic leaders and approved by Mayor Edward J. Kelly, 70-year-old head of the nation's second largest city, as the candidate for his successor. Kennelly accepted on condition that he would get "a free hand" in running the mayor's office.

The white-haired bachelor executive of warehouse, moving van and meat packing firms, accepted the party organization's support at a meeting of the full central city committee of 50 ward committeemen.

Kelly, Democratic national committeeman and for 13 years titular head of the party's powerful Chicago machine, declined to make the race again. He urged nomination of Kennelly.

The February 25 primary prior to the April 1 election shaped up as probably uncontested races by Kennelly, self-styled political independent, for the Democratic nomination, and by Republican Russell W. Root.

Santa Claus' Aide Killed; No Motive

Munising, Mich., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Conrad Demmon, 16-year-old schoolboy delivering Christmas mail and groceries, was killed late yesterday by an elderly man who took his own life in a shooting state police termed murder and suicide.

The man was identified by Mrs. Argene Pelletier, Alger county sheriff, and state troopers as John Whytnick, 67.

State police could advance no motive for the slaying.

Witness to the shooting was the youth's younger sister, who had gone with him from the postoffice here to deliver Whytnick's mail at a Girl Scout camp where the latter had been caretaker for 17 years. The girl's name and age were not immediately available.

Bilbo Denies $1,500 Narcotics Payment; Quiz Remains Open

"Have Nothing to Hide", Bilbo Tells Senate Probe Committee

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Clashing testimony about payment of $1,500 in a narcotics case held the Bilbo investigation wide open today as the stormy public hearings recessed for the Christmas holiday.

"I have nothing to hide," Senator Theodore S. Bilbo (D-Miss) told the senate investigating committee yesterday as he denied repeatedly any knowledge of payments reported to have been made to him by a doctor for helping get a narcotics permit for a Natchez, Miss., man.

Bilbo also offered to open his private files to investigators seeking information on the narcotics allegation, or "anything else that has come up in these hearings".

Supreme Court to Rule on New Tax Assessment Law

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme court was asked today to clear up taxing powers under the mandatory 100 per cent property tax assessment laws.

The court's decision is awaited by local taxing officials throughout the state anxious to know how much revenue they can count on from 1946 tax bills payable in 1947.

Even the experts hold conflicting opinions as to maximum taxes that can be extended. As a result, many county clerks don't know which way to turn in figuring the new rates.

Grace Anderson, a taxpayer and resident of Park Ridge, filed the Supreme court appeal from a Cook county circuit court decision which dismissed her suit.

Two Interpretations of Law

Her complaint typifies the problems since it hinges on different interpretations of two key paragraphs of the laws.

She contended that if a formula set up in paragraph one was used, the Cook county clerk could compute the 1946 corporate fund tax of Park Ridge to produce $82,283. Under the paragraph two formula the maximum would be reduced to $70,025.

In most taxing districts, the paragraph one formula would yield substantial increases over 1945 property taxes. Local government officials say additional revenue is needed because of wage demands and generally higher operating costs.

Under paragraph two the increase is limited to five per cent, more than the maximum that could have been extended in 1942. The taxpayers' Federation of Illinois, using county corporate funds as a guide, says this provision would permit most units about the same amounts as 1945.

Groups Differ on Issue

The Anderson appeal argued that the second paragraph should control in tax extensions and asked the high tribunal to enter a declaratory judgment to this effect.

The same stand is taken by the Taxpayers' Federation, a non-profit organization for tax control, which intervened in the suit, and by many tax attorneys.

But the Illinois Association of School Boards, the state Revenue department and the Tax Committee of the State's Attorneys association say the opposite is true.

TODAY'S WEATHER STORY

(By The Associated Press)

A wide variety of weather conditions was recorded on the weatherman's map today.

The entire southeastern portion of the country, with the exception of Florida, was dripping with rain, while a midwest cold snap had dissipated. Benndig, Minn., for example, reported 15 above zero as compared with 21 below yesterday. Light snowfalls were predicted for the middlewest tonight and early tomorrow.

A cold high pressure area in Maine kept residents there in ear muffs. The cold air mass was overflowing into the entire New England area.

Generally fair and mild weather prevailed along the Pacific coast.

Polio Fight Will Need $24,000,000

Cleveland, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Polio this year had its worst epidemic in 30 years and $24,000,000 is needed to continue the battle against it in 1947, Basil O'Connor of New York, president of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, says.

Speaking before a group of civic leaders yesterday, he said polio was a "most expensive disease" and estimated the cost of treatment for a single case at between $1,200 and $2,500 a year.

He listed Minnesota, Florida, Colorado, New Hampshire, Kansas and Illinois as those where severe attacks were experienced last summer.

Hypnotism by Radio Far Too Successful

London, Dec. 20.—(AP)—The British Broadcasting Corporation announced today that it had successfully experimented with hypnotism by television that the feat would not be tried on a general broadcast.

The experiment was carried out on a closed circuit—not publicly televised—this week by Peter Casson. In one test, Casson made a direct attempt to hypnotize six persons watching the screen in a darkened room. Four went to sleep and of these, had to be awakened.

"But the most interesting point," said the BBC, "was that one person in a party watching a television screen in a darkened room across the corridor also fell under the hypnotic influence, although Mr. Casson was not then addressing the viewing audience."

"Because of the success of this experiment, and the consequent danger of hypnotizing viewers who might not have anyone at hand to wake them, it has now been decided that a hypnotic television broadcast would not be advisable."

North Side Home Is Scene of Bad Fire

A fire, which is believed to have originated in an combination pantry-closet storeroom, resulted in extensive damage early this morning at the A. H. Moll residence, 409 East Everett street.

Fire Chief Albert Fordyce estimated damage at between $2,500 and $3,000. The loss was said to be partially covered by insurance.

As near as can be determined, the blaze began in the storeroom around midnight. A floor of the house was entirely consumed and the fire continued to burn within walls in the upstairs section of the house.

The Dixon fire department was summoned at 12:15 a. m. when members of the household discovered the blaze and worked until 3 a. m. before completely extinguishing it.

Mr. and Mrs. Moll and Brad Moll, a son, were present in the house at the time of the fire. They were unharmed.

Trio of Murderers Die in Washington, D. C. Electric Chair

Medley Loses Last Minute Appeal and Dies With Two Negroes

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Joseph D. Medley, 45, whose affinity for red-headed women carried him to the death house, died in the electric chair today.

Medley was pronounced dead at 11:49 a. m. (CST) after a frantic last-minute attempt by his lawyer to win a delay.

The last flicker of hope was extinguished by the Supreme Court less than half an hour before the suave gambler-killer went to his death.

The high tribunal for the second time in as many days refused to stay the electrocution for a lunacy hearing.

Medley, who died for the murder of a 50-year-old redheaded Washington divorcee, was claimed by his lawyer to be a victim of chronic alcoholic paranoia.

Thin and haggard, he paid with his life for the fatal shooting of Mrs. Nancy Boyer in her fashionable apartment here in March, 1945.

He and others had played poker at the apartment the previous night.

Medley was executed just 19 minutes after announcement that the Supreme court again had refused to intervene.

Walks to Chair Calmly

He was calm as he walked to the chair, where two and a half hours before two Negro murderers had been put to death.

The Rev. David O'Connor, jail chaplain, walked beside him carrying a Rosary. Medley mumbled responses in a low voice as he was led to the chair.

Earlier, the United States Court of appeals had turned down a petition asking the execution be stayed pending a lunacy hearing.

Delayed Several Hours

Medley's execution had been delayed for several hours while appeals, by his attorney, James J. Laughlin were pending. The Supreme Court diverted from its usual procedure to consider the final Medley appeal. The petition was filed shortly after 10 a. m. (CST) and the court considered it in closed session until noon.

At that hour the justices entered the court room, presumably to

Strike Control Plan Bans Closed Shops

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—Rep. Howard W. Smith (D-Va.), co-author of the War Labor Disputes act, today outlined a peacetime strike control program that would ban closed shops and prohibition.

Smith sketched out details of his proposed measure during a conference with President Truman yesterday but declined to say what, if any, reaction it met at the White House.

The Virginian told reporters he plans to introduce his bill when the new congress meets two weeks from today.

With Senator Connally (D-Tex.), Smith wrote the Wartime Labor act which became law over President Roosevelt's veto. It gives the government power to seize plants involved in labor disputes and to prosecute union leaders who engineer strikes in seized industries.

Smith said his new bill is designed to cover the entire labor situation.

It would sharply revise the Wagner Labor Relations act and contains some provisions of the vetoed Case bill, the invalidated Lea-Petrillo radio act and the shelved Smith anti-strike bill of the 79th congress.

'Jerry's Dance'

West Minot, Me., Dec. 20.—(AP)—A ghost will be host at "Jerry's Dance" in the Grange Hall tonight.

"Jerry" was Jarius Hilborn, who died 21 years ago leaving a will providing funds for a dance every year on his birthday until the 100th anniversary, which will be in 1951.

A cheesemaker, and a bachelor until the year before he died, Hilborn always was a friend of the young people here, and liked to see them have fun.

As usual, in the midst of tonight's funmaking, there will be a moment of silence for "Jerry". That, too, was provided in the will, with the stipulation that should anyone break the silence, the dances would end.

"Phantom Limb" Pains May Be Erased by New Type Operation

Cleveland, Dec. 20.—(AP)—A new operation to get rid of phantom limbs, the imaginary arms and legs of amputees, which nevertheless are really painful, was reported to the American College of Surgeons today.

These phantom limbs last for weeks or months and occasionally for years. A man with one leg gone will have the sensation perhaps that it is doubled under him, and he is sitting on it and it hurts. Or he has the sensation that a missing arm is stretching rigidly aloft with the fingers cramping.

The best reason surgeons can give is the fact that after the nerves are cut at the amputation point, their ends afterward grow a little. They grow into the scar at the end of the stump limb.

The nerve tendons curl around seeking to make unions with other nerves in the last stump. This in theory is why the amputees have the phantom leg sensations.

Several surgical operations have been used. The new one was reported by Dr. Louis G. Herrmann, of the University of Cincinnati college of medicine. He ligates, or ties off, the severed nerve ends about an inch from the stump. This prevents the tendons presumably from growing down into the scar. He said the results indicate that this ligation is of considerable importance in preventing occurrence of the phantom limb pain.

Miller Claim on Charters Estate of $3,354 Denied

In an opinion filed in Lee county Circuit court this morning, Judge Leon A. Zick, Ogle county, disallowed a claim of $3,354.65 made by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Miller, 224 East Boyd street, against the estate of Blanche S. Charters, who died here in March, 1941.

The Miller claim against the conservatorship was for personal attention, nursing care and additional incidentals from the period from Feb. 16, 1934, to Feb. 16, 1941. A total of $400 had been allowed on the claim previously in County court.

Split-Second Reactions by Two Pilots Saved the Lives of Scores

Aberdeen, Md., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Split-second reactions by two pilots were credited today with having the lives of 85 passengers and crew members of two Miami-bound airliners which collided 2,000 feet in the air near here in an accident unprecedented in American commercial air travel.

None of the passengers suffered so much as a scratch, although both planes were damaged in the collision, which occurred in clear weather shortly after dark last night.

The co-pilot of one, a big, four-engined DC-4 Eastern Air Lines craft carrying 56 passengers, said he saw the other, a two-engined Universal Air Lines C-47, approaching from the left three or four miles north of Aberdeen. He pulled his ship up at the last instant and scraped over the top of the Universal plane, Eastern officials said.

The co-pilot, R. Brown, of Miami, said he had "just a second or two" in which to avert disaster. The pilot of this plane, J. B. Kuhn, also of Miami, told a reporter, "Brown saved the day."

Holes in Both Craft

A three-by-five-foot hole was ripped in the tail section of the larger plane, while the Universal liner, carrying 22 passengers and a crew of three on a charter flight, had a hole driven into the upper portion of the fuselage, its escape hatch wrenched free and its radio and hydraulic systems knocked out of commission.

Despite the damage, Henry Norris of Cambridge Mass., pilot of the Universal ship, brought it down safely at the Aberdeen proving ground field, while the Eastern plane was landed uneventfully by Kuhn before waiting crash-wagons and fire-engines at National Airport, Washington, D. C.

The DC-4, cruising at about 230 miles an hour, apparently had overtaken the slower craft. It had started from New York, while the Universal plane had taken off at Newark, N. J.

Lavish Praise for Crews

Occupants of both planes, mostly vacationists and business men, reported little if any confusion at the time of their narrow escape, and most said they had been unaware of the extent of their danger. All, however, had lavish praises for crew members.

One grateful survivor of the Eastern plane, Ben J. Slutzky of Ellenville, N. Y., announced he was

Military Training Commission Called

Washington, Dec. 20.—(AP)—President Truman called his new advisory commission on universal military training into session at the White House today to begin a survey of civilian opinion on that hotly debated proposal.

Truman asked the nine members to consider not only the need for such training but also various plans for putting it into effect.

When its survey is completed the commission will submit recommendations to the chief executive, who himself asked congress a year ago for legislation of some sort to create a pool of militarily trained manpower.

The war department already has a bill written calling for six months of basic training, followed either by another six months of technical training or service in some military organization.

In announcing creation of the commission yesterday, the White House said the members will select their own chairman. They are:

Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Moscow; Charles E. Wilson, president of General Electric Company; Samuel I. Rosenman, former special counsel to the president; Dr. Daniel P. Moynihan, editor of the Christian Herald; Mrs. Hannah Rosenberg, New York industrial relations expert; Truman K. Gibson, Jr., Chicago lawyer and former civilian aide to the secretary of war; Dr. Harold W. Dodds, president of Princeton; the Rev. Edmund A. Walsh, vice president of Georgetown university; and Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

State Ranks Fifth in Mineral Production

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Illinois produced coal, oil and other minerals in 1945 valued at a third of a billion dollars to rank fifth among the states in mineral production.

Dr. M. M. Leighton, chief of the state geological survey, said today in the survey's annual report that coal accounted for nearly half of the state's $332,000,000 in total output.

The worth of coal production was placed at $163,000,000 and that of oil and gas output at $110,000,000. The remainder of the total was accounted for by limestone, lime, cement, sands, gravel, clay and clay products, fluorspar, lead, zinc and miscellaneous minerals.

Resources taken from mines made up 52 per cent of the revenue freight originating in the state. The balance of loadings consisted of agricultural products, animals, forest products and manufactured goods, in which Illinois ranked third.

Expanded operations in Illinois oil fields and the discovery of 25 new pools enabled the state to offset exhaustion of some oil resources and to retain its place as the nation's sixth producer.

The output of limestone, lime, cement, silica sand, common sand and gravel was valued at a total of $28,000,000, clay and clay products at $19,000,000, fluorspar $5,000,000, zinc and lead $2,400,000, and miscellaneous minerals $4,600,000.

U. of I. Enrollment All-Time High, 28,553

Champaign, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Enrollment at the University of Illinois totals 28,553—an all-time record—the first official announcement of the fall semester figures showed today.

The previous high was about 14,000, last semester. At a recent trustees' meeting in Chicago, Coleman R. Griffith, provost, said enrollment might reach 39,000 within the next four years.

There are 18,378 students, including 1,792 post graduates, on the Champaign-Urbana campus. The remainder is divided as follows: Chicago medical campus, 1,505; Chicago Navy Pier branch, 3,846; Galesburg branch, 432; taking regular courses in extension centers throughout the state, 3,115; taking university work in extension centers, 1,277. The Galesburg branch will have about 2,000 next semester.

Of the total, 22,593 are men and 5,960 women.

The eight muscles of the human jaw exercise a force of nearly a quarter ton.

District OPA Officer Named to Area Post

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 20.—(AP)—Charles P. Casey, director since last April of the Springfield district OPA, has been appointed acting deputy administrator and liquidating officer of an OPA region comprising seven midwestern states.

The states are Nebraska, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois, Wisconsin and North and South Dakota.

Named to succeed Casey in the Springfield post was Ben Becker, director of the Peoria district

OPA until its merger with the office here.

Service Club Will Sponsor Charity Ball

Under the sponsorship of the Dixon Service club, the Annual Charity Ball will be held in the Masonic Temple ballroom Monday evening, Dec. 30, from 9:30 o'clock until 1:00 o'clock Tuesday morning. Lee Simmons and his orchestra from Clinton, Ia., will provide the music.

This year's ball is being sponsored to help finance the purchase of 18 plastic bassinets with standards for the nursery at KSB hospital. The need for the new equipment was made necessary by a recent ruling of the Illinois State Board of Health, which requires all hospital nurseries to provide a bassinet for each infant with a space where the supplies for each baby can be kept separate from those of the others.

Bassinets and standards, according to the ruling, must be such that they can be arranged in the nursery at least 18 inches apart. The regulation was passed by the legislature as a measure to protect all hospitalized infants from contagious diseases as impetigo and infant diarrhea.

Marian T. Healy, Patrick, McCaffrey Exchange Vows in Amboy Ceremony

Baskets of yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the altars of St. Patrick's church in Amboy Saturday morning, Dec. 14, when Miss Marian Teresa Healy, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Healy of Amboy, and Patrick Joseph McCaffrey, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McCaffrey of Amboy, were married. The Rev. John Bowling officiated at the nuptial High Mass.

Music was provided by Sister Claude and St. Anne's junior choir. Harold Healy sang Rosewig's "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Harold Healy, of Walton, the bride was attired in a grey wool dressmaker suit with black accessories and had a corsage of Tallman roses and white sweetpeas. She carried a crystal rosary and wore a gold cross, a gift of the groom, for her only jewelry.

Mrs. Clarence Michels was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a moss green suit, with black accessories and a corsage of yellow chrysanthemums and white sweetpeas. Her gift from the bride was a gold chateleine.

William McCaffrey was his brother's best man and Darrel Reichensperger and Rea Flock, Jr., nephews of the groom, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding,

Mrs. Healy wore black with white winter white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses and white sweetpeas.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Glen Holt and her daughter, Mrs. Marie McKnight, served a wedding breakfast for the wedding party at the home of the bride's mother. Yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the table.

The wedding dinner was served at the McCaffrey home, where the tables were decorated with chrysanthemums, candles and place cards in yellow and white; the bride's colors. A three-tiered wedding cake centered the table. The dinner was served by Misses Evelyn Hike and Ethel Bates, friends of the bride, and Mrs. Kenneth Belfer, of Chicago, niece of the groom. Rea Flock, Jr., and Fred Vaughn provided the music for the afternoon.

When the couple left for a honeymoon in Chicago, the bride was wearing a sequin-trimmed winter white dress and a silver muskrat coat with brown accessories.

Mrs. McCaffrey, a nurse, received her training in Keokuk, Ia. The groom is now employed as brick foreman for the Lindquist Construction company in Kent, Ill. When he completes his present work, the couple will leave for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will spend the winter.

Travel Club Sees Colorado Scenes

Slide pictures of Colorado, taken by Harry Lazier of Denver, were shown by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Lazier, at the Foreign Travel club Christmas party at the Loveland Community house last night. Following a dinner, new members were introduced and officers for the coming year were elected. They are John Earle, president; Horace Street, vice president; Mrs. Gracia Carter, secretary, and Miss Grace O'Malley, treasurer.

Accompanied by explanations by Lazier, the pictures showed Denver and many views of the Rocky Mountain empire surrounding the city. Agricultural, mining, recreational and industrial activities were seen in addition to seasonal changes. Following the showing of the pictures there was a gift exchange.

George E. Massey, Jr., executive director of the Pan-American council of Chicago, will be guest speaker on "How Latin Americas Regard Us" at the Jan 9 meeting.

CANTATA GIVEN BY TROUBADETTES

"Bethlehem," a cantata, was presented by members of the Troubadettes chorus for attendants and patients at the Dixon State hospital last night. Following the concert, the group met at the home of one of the members, Mrs. William Shuck, for a Christmas party.

Until after the holidays, there will be no more rehearsals for the group.

SCOUTS, LEADERS SING CAROLS IN DOWNTOWN DIXON

Under the direction of Mrs. Byron Chasteen, more than 100 Girl Scouts and their leaders joined in singing Christmas carols in the downtown district of Dixon last night. The carollers wore red capes with pointed caps, which were furnished by the Scout council.

After singing for 15 minutes under the lighted Christmas tree on the court house lawn, the Scouts moved to the City National Bank corner. Police Chief Harry Fischer had assigned Officers Edward Trotter, Jack Van Meter and Ray Wilson to protect the crossings and control traffic while the Scouts were carolling.

Last night's activity marks the close of the Christmas program of 415 Scouts and Brownies in Dixon's 21 troops. The girls have been making presents for their mothers at troop meetings and have had several troop Christmas parties.

Our Boarding House With Major Hoople Out Our Way By Williams

I HATE TO WIPE OUT ONE OF MY BOYISH MATE'S PLAY-THINGS, BUT POULTRY IS HIGH AS A CAT'S BACK! IF I CAN GET NEAR ENOUGH TO THAT GOOSE IN THE BACK YARD, WE'LL

NO, MRS. HOOPLE! I'D RATHER BUY A GOOSE THAN SEE YOU SLAY THAT PATRIARCH!--THE MAJOR DOESN'T KNOW IT, BUT HIS GANDER IS 23 YEARS OLD--I'D RATHER EAT THE STRINGS OFF A GUITAR!

ANTIQUES ARE HARD TO DIGEST

OWOOW! FOR FIFTEEN YEARS HE'S TURNED OUT THEM FRICITION NUTS AN' HE DON'T KNOW WHAT THEY'RE FOR!

BECAUSE IT'S NONE OF MY BUSINESS! THEY GOT MEN DOIN' THAT!

THEY LIKE YOU TO KEEP YOUR NOSE WHERE IT BELONGS, BUT THEY SEEM TO PROMOTE THEM THAT HAS THEIR NOSE IN EVERY-THING!

THE FAILURE

COPIED FROM THE NEW YORK TIMES BY THE NEW YORK TIMES

DIXON WOMAN FREED BY HER KIDNAPPER

Hunters and the Hunted

Frank Sickles, shown seated in the sheriff's office shortly after his arrest, appeared dazed and confused at first. He gazes vacantly at the floor as three of the local law officers active in the six-hour search stand by. At left is Sheriff Gilbert Finch. Police Officer Frank Tyne is behind Sickles, while Chief of Police Harry Fischer examines the revolver the would-be bandit used.

Knife Found Bound in Closet

Here State Police Officer J. F. McIntire shows the knife which was one of the weapons Sickles brandished when he entered the Stackhouse residence at 3:30 p. m. yesterday and kidnaped Mrs. Stackhouse. Officer McIntire found the knife in the barn on the Charles Russell farm.

Scene of Kidnaping

This is the home of Dr. and Mrs. Stirling P. Stackhouse, 808 North Galena avenue. Sickles brought Mrs. Stackhouse out the front door, down to the ravine shown in the foreground and into a tunnel under North Galena avenue, emerging in open country at the edge of the city.

Scene of Surrender

This is the Ed Mensch farm house in Palmyra township, approximately five miles north of Dixon, where Mrs. Stackhouse telephoned to her husband and where Sickles gave up without resistance to local police at 8:10 p. m. last night. Sickles carried his revolver into the house, but had unloaded it earlier.

Victim

Disastrous Quake, Tidal Wave Strike in Southern Japan

Wreak Death, Destruction in 50,000 Square Miles of Island Empire

DISASTROUS QUAKE
Tokyo, Dec. 21.—(AP)—A violent earthquake—possibly the world's heaviest—and the severe tidal wave it erupted off Wakayama peninsula today wreaked death and destruction over 50,000 square miles of southern Japan.

U. S. Army and Japanese sources released these fragmentary reports:

- 500 Japanese dead.
- 612 Japanese injured.
- 42 Japanese and one British occupation soldier missing.
- 4,500 homes destroyed.
- 9,044 homes heavily damaged.
- 14,000 dwellings flooded.
- 500 fishing vessels destroyed.

An early estimate that probably 1,000 Japanese were killed—based on a report that 200 miles at Kochi were "wiped out"—was disregarded later as Army and Japanese sources compiled their reports of known casualties.

Military reports tonight said all American Army personnel in Japan were safe.

pan's quake and tidal wave ravaged area are safe.

Only one casualty—a missing soldier—was reported from the British occupation sector, although it is near the center of the area. British headquarters at Kure was damaged.

With reports still incomplete, the disaster shaped up as the worst which has hit Japan since

Abduction Case Throws Citizens into Confusion

The kidnaping of Mrs. Della Stackhouse late yesterday afternoon threw Dixon into a cauldron of activity. Conflicting rumors added to the general confusion.

All sorts of stories reached the ears of Telegraph reporters last evening, during the height of the search for the abducted woman.

Most purported to be the gospel truth. Here are a few examples: The abductor was believed to have used a car for the get-away . . . the abductor was an escapee from the Dixon State hospital and a Negro . . . the kidnaper was observed driving through Forreston.

Searching parties composed of hundreds of armed and local citizens combed likely hiding places. Auto expeditions explored surrounding country roads and fields.

Many Bolted Doors

Meanwhile, most stay-at-homes bolted their doors and passed the news to neighbors. The Telegraph was besieged with phone inquiries concerning the disappearance.

Fans attending the Dixon-Hall Township basketball game at the high school were advised of the happening. All men were urged to appear at the armory to form hunting posses.

Several false alarms were turned in to local police by jittery

Ohio Industrialist Presents 1,400 Employees $705,686 Holiday Bonus

Scio, O., Dec. 21.—(AP)—This village of 1,100 was a potential "boom town" today as 827 Scio-Ohio pottery employees pondered how to spend—or save—$705,686 in Christmas checks from their boss, L. P. Reese, a relief recipient 14 years ago.

The Scio bank was ready for a rush of business, and Cashier William Hughes observed happily: "This will play the dickens with the notes at our bank."

The money was handed out at a pre-holiday surprise party last night.

Interviews with many who received the maximum bonus of $3,500 indicated that much of the money would be used to pay debts, increase savings and buy bonds.

The 53-year-old Reese, who was penniless in 1932 when he began building an abandoned pottery into a $3,000,000 plant explained his gifts thus:

"I've got all the money I need, and my ambition is to keep my employees the highest paid pottery workers in the world."

Along with the bonus, he announced a 20-cent-an-hour increase in wages, with a $1 hourly minimum for unskilled workers.

To 88 men and women who had been with his pottery for at least 10 of its 14-year existence, Reese gave bonuses of $3,500. The average bonus was $852.50, and the smallest, $10 for new employees.

The bonus money was accumulated during the war years when pay increases were restricted.

Most of the 10-year employees glanced at the checks and were dazed. Some walked away with rubbery legs, but recovered and ran back to thank Reese and shake his hand.

Reese, a machine gunner in World War I, had another surprise for his community—a new home for the American Legion, which had been raising funds for that purpose.

Detailed Story of Kidnaper's Action Since "Taking Off"

Sickles Tells States Attorney Pires of His Recent Life

Here is a step-by-step story of the travels of Frank L. Sickles, 27-year-old dishonorably discharged veteran, who "just took off" from his Wyoming, Ill., home Thursday, Dec. 12, and wound up kidnaping Mrs. Della Stackhouse, 40, here yesterday afternoon.

Sickles told State's Atty. Morey Pires last night that he quit his $32-a-week job with the Aldridge gas burner plant in Wyoming to go to Chicago "to buy clothes and take it easy." Sickles said he didn't tell his 22-year-old wife, Thelma M., that he was leaving. He said he had $480 when he left home. Last night there was $101 in his billfold when Pires examined it.

The rangy, hollow-cheeked prisoner gave this story of his travels to Pires during lengthy questioning after his capture at approximately 8:40 p. m. at the farm home of John Mensch, Palmyra

Doctor's Wife and Two Children Bound and Gagged in Home

Dishonorably Discharged Ex-GI Held; Victim Forced To Walk Into Country Five Miles

Mrs. Della Stackhouse, 40, wife of Dr. Stirling P. Stackhouse, 808 North Galena avenue, is recovering today from nervous shock and bruises after being held captive for approximately six hours last night by a robber-kidnaper who bound and gagged her at the Stackhouse home at approximately 3:30 p. m. yesterday, then forced her to walk five miles overland before giving up on the Ed Mensch farm in Palmyra township and allowing Mrs. Stackhouse to call her husband.

Her captor was Frank L. Sickles, 27, Wyoming, Ill., a dishonorably discharged soldier, who posed as a Rockford Morning Star reporter to get into the house, and also bound and gagged Mrs. Stackhouse's daughters, Linda, 9, and Diana, 7, and left them locked in a closet at the house. Mrs. Stackhouse was unharmed.

Sickles was arrested at the Mensch farm at approximately 8:40 p. m. by Police Chief Harry Fischer and Officer Frank Tyne, first to reach the scene after Mrs. Stackhouse's call came through to her waiting husband. He offered no resistance. He had thrown away the cartridges from the revolver before going to the farm house.

Back Home at 9:39

Mrs. Stackhouse was returned to her home at approximately 9:30 p. m. where she was said to be resting and recovering. Sickles was taken to the police station shortly after 9 p. m., then later to the courthouse where he told a story of how he planned to rob Dr. Stackhouse of "$500 or $1,000" under the questioning of State's

Penalties

It was authoritatively stated today that Sickles faces penitentiary sentences which may result in his being confined for the balance of his life, with a possibility of a death sentence. The Illinois statutes provide a penalty of from one to five years in the penitentiary and a fine of $1,000 or both in plain kidnapping cases.

Where kidnapping is committed for ransom or extortion, the statutes call for either the infliction of the death sentence or life imprisonment, with a minimum penalty of not less than five years. There was also the possibility of the introduction of other charges including burglary, assault, carrying concealed weapons and numerous other counts which might be included in the indictment, it was stated.

Attorney Morey C. Pires. Charges were expected to be filed today against the gaunt, six-foot prisoner.

He bought a 50-foot length of sash-cord rope, used to tie his victims, at the Montgomery-Ward store here early this afternoon. Unused pieces of the rope, found in the Stackhouse residence, were identified at the store about 6 p. m. He bought the rope from Mrs. Virginia Colclasure, 27, 1916 Third street, a clerk in the store after

Patients' Escape Adds to Confusion

Adding to the confusion arising from the brazen kidnaping of Mrs. Della Stackhouse yesterday afternoon, came reports of the escape from the Dixon State hospital of five male patients. The group consisted of four Negroes and one white patient and none of them had been returned to the institution early today. State police and searching crews, who were aware of the escape of the five patients suspected that some of the escapees might have figured in the kidnap. About 9 o'clock last night, a report was received that the escapees had been observed north of Forreston walking along state route 26 toward Freeport, but this was unverified.

first seeking to make the purchase from another clerk, Miss Sylvia Sommerville, 872 First street.

His capture was the climax of a wild night filled with the lights of dozens of armed searching parties which combed Dixon, the golf courses, Lowell park, and scattered throughout the surrounding countryside. Aiding local police and Sheriff Gilbert Finch in the search were the State Highway police, who set up blockades on all highways in northern Illinois immediately after being notified of the kidnaping, members of Co. A, the local National Guard unit, and scores of citizens who banded together in small groups to scour the fields, ditches and roads.

Mrs. Robert Ewalt of Ohio, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly". She also sang "The Lord's Prayer" following the service. She was accompanied by Mrs. Vance Hopper of Ohio, who played a prelude of nuptial music and the "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" as the processional and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as the recessional.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Kay Anderson, as matron of honor and Miss Virginia Phillips as bridesmaid. They were gowning in yellow and blue taffeta and wore elbow length gloves and carried colonial bouquets of yellow and blue carnations.

Talks on Soil at Home Bureau Unit

"Relation of Soil to Nutrition," was the major lesson discussed by Mrs. Earl Auman at the meeting of Dixon Afternoon Home Bureau members at the home of Mrs. N. V. Christenson Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Calvin Brown was assistant hostess. A Christmas music period was led by Miss Frances Watts, assisted by several of the unit members.

For her talk, Mrs. Auman emphasized Russell Lord's definition of the soil. According to him, "Soil is the eternal treasury of mankind. It is the most familiar, but the most mysterious stuff on earth. A living mixture of decaying rocks, finely ground by the weather, of decaying animal flesh and plant tissue, and of air and water, soil is earth's borderline between the quick and the dead. The diameter of the earth is 8,000 miles straight through. The vital outside layer or topsoil is only eight or nine inches deep. It takes a long time for the weather to make a soil, mellow it with humus and living and dying organisms, and bring it to life."

Mrs. Kenneth Gross led the minor lesson on "Proper Signatures for Women." The meeting was closed with a recreation period led by Mrs. Edward Fisher.

False Alarm

Chicago—(AP)—Three police squads from the Racine avenue station raced to the National Security bank last night in response to a holdup alarm.

Approaching the bank cautiously the policemen heard noises inside and deduced there must be a whole gang of bandits.

But a watchman who opened the door said 40 bank employees were having a Christmas party. One of the dancers, he explained, had accidentally stepped on a button connected to the automatic alarm.

Poets' Corner

'TIS CHRISTMAS

Now are the Christmas lights aglow.

In streets and windows, too. In most homes, a Christmas tree

Decked in red and green or blue. While stars of heaven redly glow

Against the frost and cold. People sing songs and rejoice

To hear the story told. This night a Savior was born,

In a manger on the hay. There was no room at the inn.

A bright star led the way. He lived and died that all

Who believe in Him should Have everlasting life.

Rich and poor, great and small, 'Tis Christmas: Hear the call.

Commercial Atom By 1951: Experts

Boston, Dec. 21—(AP)—Commercial use of atomic energy within five years has been predicted by a group of New England experts providing the government gives the "green light" to industry.

Atomic generation of electric power, they said, could be accomplished at an original cost comparable to present modern methods and for much less.

These views were expressed in a report by a New England council which includes in its membership Karl T. Compton, president of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and one of the developers of the atom bomb, and Bradley Dewey, president of the American Chemical Society.

Although no atomic power plants have been built, they said, "there now seems to be no question, from the purely technical standpoint, about the possibility of generating large amounts of power from the heat liberated during the operation of atomic piles."

Many factors involved. Many factors, they added, would affect the speed with which the atom is put to commercial use—among them government financial support for research development, full release of technical information commensurate with security and "provided that industry be given the green light to proceed with its own development."

Granted these, they said, "it seems probable that within five years atomic piles could be operating for the purpose of producing electrical power."

The committee said that it was difficult to predict what the first commercial uses of atomic power would be but that "it seems likely that it will be for purposes needing heavy and continuous loads of power."
